

Seven of Pentacles

Traditional meaning:

The character is pondering the fruits of labors. They are there to be savored. The person should also be ready to appreciate the reward for efforts invested.

My Interpretation:

The person in question is comfortable. They have a snug, nice hat and comfortable gloves. They even have a pretty walking stick. So they should appreciate what they already have.

They are focusing on the largest item in the wealth of opportunities of coins. There is not just one coin there. There is many. They need to focus on the largest opportunity, the most beneficial choice out of many. They have been developing these opportunities for a while. They need to pay attention and invest their time in drawing benefit from the one that has the greatest potential for reward.

The sky is clear. The items are there. They need to move ahead with focus and stay on target.
